

Summer Fun with Gone Crabbing

Add a splash of colour and a touch of the seashore to your kitchen and family barbecues with these fabulous new aprons, oven gloves and napkins by Norfolk company, Gone Crabbing. Launched in 2008, the giftware range also offers quality bone china mugs, tea towels and stationery in warm, summery shades featuring a series of bright, contemporary designs inspired by Norfolk's unique coastline, countryside and dialect. Following the success of her 'Norfolk' collection, creator Susie Mason has now introduced a new 'National' range of kitchen textiles in navy, red and cream, to celebrate our great British heritage and favourite national dishes and delicacies. A selection of items from Gone Crabbing's Norfolk and National collections are pictured. More fun products are in the pipeline – watch out for the retro 'soap on a rope' and all the great new designs and colours in Gone Crabbing's casual clothing range.
